

Maddalena Pamio

Treviso, 1999. Lives and works in Turin.

She attended Atelier F at the Academy of Fine Arts in Venice, graduating in 2023. In 2024, she moved to Turin.

Her painting practice, on canvas and panel, focuses on familiar and everyday subjects, including common objects and portraits, captured as if they were fragments of a catalog or snapshots from a phone. Using a muted palette, she evokes suspended and ambiguous atmospheres. Through the depiction of these subjects, often isolated and bathed in unreal light, Pamio constructs a soft and restless world, where scenes and presences emerge like fragments of memory held in time.

Her work belongs to a pictorial tradition that reflects on the object as an emotional and symbolic projection.
